Welcome

The Swedish International Development Cooperation Agency (Sida), Arbetsförmedlingen (the Swedish Public Employment Service) and the Economic Policy Research Institute (EPRI) hereby invite and welcome you to nominate candidates for this International Training Programme on Social Protection for Sustainable Development. Trusting that this training programme will contribute to the development of the social protection system in your country, we would like to invite your institution to nominate qualified candidates for participation in the programme.

In this brochure you will find information on the specific objectives for this particular programme, its content and structure, how and when to apply, as well as an application form. The programme is specially designed for persons qualified to participate in reform processes and holding a position in their home organisations with mandate to conduct a process of change. It offers support to strengthen, adapt and maintain capacity over time in order for the participant’s organization to define and achieve goals both short and long term. Participants from each country will work together to implement progressively a medium-term change programme that strengthens the capacity of the national social protection system to work more effectively.

The aim and overall objective of the International Training Programme (ITP) is a long-term and sustainable contribution to a more inclusive and equal society by improving the function of the social protection systems that tackle poverty, vulnerability, inequality (both gender and economic) and exclusion while strengthening delivery of climate resilience, inclusive social development, productive employment and equitable economic growth.

The programme has the objective to increase knowledge and provide participants with opportunities to implement development projects that they have prioritized together with their organisations. The methodology used is based on the assumption that the participants’ organisations wish to carry out changes and are willing to invest own efforts and resources to achieve these changes.

The ITP specifically aims to reinforce the competence of participating strategic individuals to carry out necessary reforms and policy, programme, and organisational changes within the partner country’s social protection systems while building developmental linkages to other policy sectors. Participants from the public sector and civil society will work in teams drawn from partner countries and learn to identify, design, finance, implement, monitor and evaluate social protection policies, strategies and programmes. The systems approach to change management, which this International Training Programme adopts, will also strengthen cooperation and partnership among key stakeholders, particularly social and economic ministries and agencies, contributing to broader societal changes and strengthening developmental synergies in the participating countries.

The platform for the International Training Programme is the Swedish Policy for Global Development and the global Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), in which both social protection and employment are important priorities. Goal number one “Eradicating poverty in all its forms” highlights a vital role for social protection systems. Goal number eight, Decent work and economic growth, is particularly important for Arbetsförmedlingen, The Swedish Public Employment Service, and social protection systems support this goal both directly and indirectly in both short and long-term timeframes.

Arbetsförmedlingen, The Swedish Public Employment Service, is well acquainted with the systems approach to change management including challenges, best practice and solutions. EPRI’s global mission has supported the design and implementation of social protection policies, programmes and systems in fifty-three countries around the world. Both organisations have extensive experience in developing and managing capacity building programmes internationally and aim to deliver a comprehensive International Training Programme, equipping participants with the tools to implement change in their countries.

Programme objectives

Globally, social protection represents one of the fastest growth policy sectors – in part, because its main aim – tackling poverty, vulnerability and social exclusion – strengthens the foundations for positive change around the world. Severe deprivation, unmitigated risk and discrimination create social problems that can paralyse action. Providing the most deprived households with income support makes both consumer markets and labour markets work better for the poor. Protecting people against the worst consequences of shocks enables productive risk-taking, including job search, one of the highest yielding investments for poor households. Social inclusion opens the door to vital opportunities and offers a platform on which change agents can build better policies, programmes and systems. A global evidence base today demonstrates social protection’s powerful role supporting inclusive social development, decent and productive employment and equitable economic growth.

The International Training Programme will aim to expand and improve the effectiveness of national social protection systems, tackling exclusion, promoting gender equality and strengthening developmental impact. The programme builds the capacity of teams integrating multiple government ministries, public agencies and non-governmental organisations in the partner countries to identify, design, finance, implement, monitor and evaluate change programmes. The goal of this programme is to better deliver social protection to meet the identified objectives of national policy stakeholders, including tackling poverty, vulnerability and social exclusion while strengthening opportunities for decent and productive employment. As countries tackle the challenges posed by climate change, social protection offers new adaptation opportunities and avenues to greater resilience. The change programmes involve an integrated series of change management projects agreed by partner governments and their development partners, who support this capacity development initiative. The adopted approaches will align with Swedish guiding principles for development cooperation and include values for human rights permeated with gender perspectives about equal rights for men and women.

The programme will provide the participant with an in-depth understanding of:
- the role of comprehensive social protection systems in promoting social and economic development,
- how integrating social protection instruments with developmental interventions in health, education, livelihoods and other sectors can tackle complex problems and achieve comprehensive outcomes,
- knowledge of policies and tools for more effectively designing and integrating social protection policies, programmes and systems,
- the potential of comprehensive social protection systems to support decent and productive employment,
- cross-cutting perspectives, including gender equality, anticorruption and environmental/climate issues,
- the ability to identify and analyse challenges and problems in the social protection system in the home country and to suggest corrective measures,
- the ability to initiate, organise and implement a sustainable project for change based on development priorities,
- an established network for exchanging experiences and support between participants.

The programme will combine theory with practice to provide participants with knowledge to strengthen a sustainable national social protection system. This programme adopts the Results Based Management (RBM) model as the monitoring strategy that focuses on performance and the achievements of results. RBM shifts the focus from activities and outputs to outcomes and impacts. The core modules of the ITP will include training in six main areas:
1. Rights-based and life cycle frameworks for social protection systems,
2. The design and implementation of social protection systems to ensure social inclusion,
3. Strengthening developmental impacts, by integrating inter-sectoral initiatives to multiply social protection impacts
4. Enabling social protection to promote gender equality,
5. Financing and co-financing social protection reforms, expansion and integration, and
6. Monitoring and evaluating social protection systems to enable evidence-based change.

In addition, the ITP will innovate specific modules and training components to support the specific change programmes identified by partner country teams and will include three cross cutting themes – (1) gender equality; (2) good governance, anti-corruption and integrity and (3) environment and sustainability.

Programme structure

THE PROGRAMME CONSISTS OF EIGHT PHASES:

Phase 1, Inception phase (Nov 2019 – Feb 2020):
The ITP organizers will meet with key social protection stakeholders within each country to formalise the specific aims of each country’s change programme. This process will include the establishment of a high-level programme steering committee in each country, which will usually align with the existing social protection policy coordination institution.

Phase 2, Recruitment phase (Feb – Apr 2020):
Based on national steering committee nominations and self-nominations, the ITP organisers will interview candidates and meet with partner organizations and embassies in the participating countries. Sida will approve the team of participants from each country and the organisers will agree a Memorandum of Agreement with participants and their employers.

Phase 3, Regional phase 1 (10 – 16 June 2020):
The selected team will participate in a one-week regional workshop in East/Southern Africa Region from 10 – 16 June 2020. This will introduce the participants to the aims and tools of the ITP, prepare the participants and initiate the process of agreeing the change programme for each country.

Phase 4, Intermediate phase 1 (Jul – Aug 2020):
Country experts and mentors will meet with participants in their respective countries to follow up and provide support to the work process of the change programme. The participants disseminate the acquired information from the regional phase, initiate work on their projects for change and prepare individual reports for presentation during phase five.

Phase 5, Swedish phase (14 – 25 September 2020):
The Swedish phase includes a two-week training in Sweden, where the participants will be exposed to different methods to address the issues and experiences from other countries and the international society. The course will include three main components: (1) core modules in change management facilitated by Arbetsförmedlingen and in social protection systems facilitated by EPRI, (2) advanced modules drawing on Swedish experience facilitated by Arbetsförmedlingen and other public agencies, and (3) team work managed by the country teams with support from mentors (drawn from Swedish Public Agencies and EPRI).

Phase 6, Project phase (Oct 2020 – April 2021):
The participants will implement the change projects in their respective countries by applying the acquired knowledge with support from the course team, including experts from Arbetsförmedlingen and EPRI. Country-specific social protection experts and mentors will support teams in their countries.

Phase 7, Regional phase 2 (May/June 2021):
The country teams will participate in a one-week regional workshop in May 2021 (the dates will be confirmed in September 2020). The teams will report the progress of their change projects and hand over the process of implementing the medium-term change programme to the successor group of country teams.

Phase 8, Final phase:
Working with the successor group of country teams, the participants will complete their change projects and submit their project reports.

TRAINING/PEDAGOGICS
The training will be highly interactive and requires strong participation from all parties involved. Traditional seminars and lectures will be integrated with workshops, study visits and group discussions where participants are expected to take an active role and where opportunities will be given to share best practices and nurture professional networks. Each participant will be assigned a mentor who will support in working to develop the change project.

The number of participants are limited in order to ensure a close working relationship between participants, lecturers and mentors.

MANAGEMENT AND STAFF
Sida has mandated Arbetsförmedlingen (the Swedish Public Employment Service) and the Economic Policy Research Institute to organize and execute the programme. The programme will be executed in partnership with Försäkringskassan (The Swedish Social Insurance Agency), Skatteverket (The Swedish Tax Agency) and Pensjonsmyndigheten (The Swedish Pensions Agency). All international and Swedish lecturers, teachers and mentors have extensive experience within their respective expert areas.

DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME FOR CHANGE
Before applying to the programme, each applicant should consult with their employer to ensure the appropriateness of their role in supporting the aims of the social protection change programme in their country. It is essential that the participant’s organisation supports the medium-term change programme as agreed by the national ITP steering committee. During the interview, the participants will need to explain how their work can potentially contribute to the success of the medium-term change programme and the overarching development goals in their respective countries.
